

ECONOMIC ANALYSIS OF LAW

Over the last thirty years the law-and-economics movement has revolutionized the way we think about the law, and this program gives participants a solid understanding of the economic analysis of law, taught by some of the best scholars on the subject. The readings deal with a variety of legal issues, and assume no prior knowledge of economics.

Analyzing Human Choice	Charles J. Goetz University of Virginia Law School
Rivalrous and Risky Decisions	Charles J. Goetz
Economic Structure of Tort Law	William M. Landes University of Chicago Law School
Liability Rules	William M. Landes
Intellectual Property	William M. Landes
Corporate Law	Henry G. Manne Dean Emeritus of George Mason School of Law
Efficiency and Fairness	Charles J. Goetz

Charles Goetz is the author of a leading law-and-economics casebook and of many of the most influential studies on the economic analysis of law. William Landes is one of the most prolific scholars in law-and-economics. Henry Manne is a founder of the law-and-economics movement as well as the George Mason Law & Economics Center.